About the series of manuals © Linguistic Reanimator

The tutorial series © Linguistic Reanimator can be recommended to schoolchildren, students, as well as to a wide variety of people studying English at school, university, courses, with a tutor or independently.

All exercises and tests for translation from English into Spanish are adapted through the use of foreign words (clues) on the technique of © Linguistic Reanimator. All exercises and tests have the keys. In these manuals, I tried to discover the main difficulties encountered in the English language, the difficulties for which students of this language make the most common mistakes.

The tutorials contain detailed and accessible explanations on each of the topics with and a large number of exercises adapted to translate from English into Spanish to reinforce the acquired knowledge.

The secret rule of Numbers transformation

Once, when Max and I were traveling around the country of Spanish Tenses, we settled at one of the central hotels of the city called Presente De Indicativo.

hotel [otel] hotel

* The letter -h- is not read; the stressed vowel is highlighted.

The atmosphere there was very pleasant and homely, at nine o'clock in the morning the owners of this hotel brought the purely English breakfast to our room.

desayuno inglés [desayuno ingles] English breakfast

And once, during one of those breakfasts, a familiar fairy flew into our place, greeted us and asked, tasting delicious Spanish hot chocolate and cake:

– Well, how do you like our local sights? How many of them have you managed to see?
